FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS.

Cherokee Claim Cases---Railroad Remarks-Lamar's Great Speech for the Texas Pacific--Advantages of the Route.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—HOUSE—Mr. Harrison, of Illinois, offered as a question of privilege, a resolution extending the Potter investigation to Oregon and South Carolina, and declaring that it is not the intention of the House, through such investigation, to annul or attempt to annul the decision of the presidential question as made in the Forty-Fourth Congress. The vote resulted as follows: Yeas, 71; nays, 50. The question of no quorum was raised on the Democratic side, when Harrison withdrew his resolution.

Wilson, of West Virginia, moved to extend the power of the investigation committee to any State where there may be well-grounded allegations of fraud.

Cox, of New York, moved to refer Wilson's resolution to the Potter Committee, and the vote is progressing. Reference will doubtless be made.

Cox's resolution to refer was defeated by a vote of 89 to 115, and Wilson's resolution was adopted without division.

The Army bill was discussed all day.

SENATE—Davis, of West Virginia, called up the resolution submitted by him a few days ago, authorizing a select committee to be appointed to investigate the finance reports, books, and accounts of the Treasury, to continue its investigation, and sit during the recess of the Senate, which led to an extended discussion.

A bill was reported to the Senate today from the Committee on Indian Affairs, which authorizes the Eastern band of Cherokee Indians to bring suit in the Court of Claims against the Cherokee Nation, providing for a judicial controversy pending since 1835. The claim is for a pro rata share of moneys arising from the sale by the Western Nation of land and other property which the Eastern band maintained belonged to the whole people of Cherokees. The Eastern band are authorized to employ one or more attorneys, by contract, subject to the approval of the Chief Justice of the Court of Claims, to prosecute the suit, and directs the Secretary of the Interior to pay incidental expenses. The bill provides that the United States shall be made a party to this suit, and be represented by the Attorney General.

SENATE.—After the morning hour the regular order was laid aside, and Senator Lamar proceeded to address the Senate on the Texas Pacific Road. He spoke of the great importance of the work; said the Company had already completed 445 miles of road, which is doing valuable service in developing the country through which it passed.

The length of the road to be constructed is 1,400 miles, and the whole amount of bonds to be issued could not exceed thirty-two millions of dollars, and the whole amount of the interest to be guaranteed by the government could not exceed, in round numbers, two millions of dollars per annum. The friends of the bill advocated its passage, to complete a part of the great railway system connecting the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. The construction of this road would open new and valuable markets for our surplus products. Advantages to the government and the people, to be derived from the road, would be ample compensation for the aid now asked. He argued that the government would be secured for the aid extended by mortgage upon the entire road; by all the earnings of the road, and by all the dues from the government for the transportation of mails, military supplies and troops.

He then spoke of objections to the bill and said the single question before the Senate was whether the government would expend two millions of dollars annually for the purpose of constructing this road, the value of which could not be measured in dollars. The amount asked was not half of that appropriated annually for rivers and harbors; was not as much as the government expended before the war for mail transportation alone to the Pacific coast; and that was at a time when we had but thirty millions of people and the postal demands of the country were not what they are now.

It was not a fair statement of this case to say that the passage of this bill committed the government to a great debt. Take the appropriations for the army for the next fifty years; were they regarded now as a debt? They brought no remuneration, but in case of the railroad the government became a creditor of the road.

Referring to the Pacific States and Territories, he said the sudden acquisition of our Pacific empire was a remarkable epoch in the political history of this country. Some of our statesmen regarded the event with enthusiastic feelings and others were dejected. He then quoted from the speech of Mr. Webster on this subject, to the effect that it was impossible for this vast empire to be integrated into our political system. Mr. Lamar next referred to the views entertained on this subject by Wm. H. Seward, John P. Hale, and other statesmen, and said it was held that the United States, to maintain its hold upon that Western Empire, must connect it with the Atlantic by a series of railroads, which no private enterprise could accomplish but must be done by the Federal government.

He then spoke of a bill introduced in the House of Representatives in 1852 by Mr. Rusk of Texas, and those who at that time doubted the constitutional power of the government to construct the road. Had it not been for those constitutional objections a railroad would now be running over this very route. He argued that there were no constitutional grounds against the government aid in the construction of the road, and read a letter of R. M. T. Hunter of Virginia, who formerly opposed the bill on constitutional grounds stating he still retained these general views but in many respects they had been modified by experience and the results of the war.

He next referred to the grants to other Pacific railroads, and said to the Northern Pacific the government had given a land grant of forty-seven millions of acres; to the Union Pacific and Central Pacific it had given a million acres of lands and its bonds to a prodigious amount, and the aid to the Texas Pacific was but eighteen million of acres of land.

The people of the South had already invested a million of dollars in the road and built 445 miles, but they were unable to build more.

The Legislature of every State in the South had passed resolutions favoring government aid in the construction of the road.

He spoke of the advantages of the soil and the climate of the South, and argued that the cost of living there was cheap and taxation every year was growing less burdensome. Throughout her territory were great rivers which neither froze up in winter nor dried up in summer, and could turn her spindles all the year round. The Southern States had but a small portion of their cotton lands under cultivation. They could raise cotton enough to clothe the world. The markets of China, Japan and other Eastern countries presented the greatest advantage to us, and with the construction of the Texas Pacific road we would be brought into more intimate relations with these countries. He was satisfied that the construction of the Texas Pacific road would be a prompt and most efficient means for the development of Southern commerce and agriculture.

He spoke of the labor troubles in the country, and said what we needed was the inauguration of new enterprise to employ labor.

In conclusion, he appealed to the Senators from the New England States especially to support the measure as a work of national importance in the interest of the whole American people.

Mr. Johnston, of Virginia, gave notice that he desired to address the Senate upon this bill, but was not prepared to do so to day.

The District of Columbia bill was discussed in executive session.

Nominations—J. Silleny Sligh, postmaster, Walhalla, South Carolina.

Confirmations—Stephen B. Packard, of Louisiana, Consul at Liverpool; L. Fairchild, Wisconsin, Consul General at Paris; J. S. Sligh, Postmaster, Walhalla.

EUROPEAN NEWS.

The Volunteer Russian Fleet--Progress of Negotiations--Schouvaloff, the Mediator--Hopes for Peace.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, May 22.—The Standard announces that it is more than probable that the Congress will meet during the first fortnight of June. Also on account of the unsettled affairs at Constantinople, the English fleet will move to Princes Island.

The debate was confined to constitutional and legal points, and was adjourned to Thursday.

The Press Association understands that replying to the request of the Duke of Westminster to receive a deputation with a peace declaration, signed by 200,000, the Marquis of Salisbury has stated that he is unable to receive the deputation.

Pacific news comes from St. Petersburg, Berlin and Paris.

The Standard's Berlin special says that Count Schouvaloff expressed to Lord Odo Russell, the British Ambassador, the hope that the negotiation between England and Russia would lead to a peaceful arrangement.

The Times' Vienna corrrespondent, however, says that in order to appreciate the exact value of the announcement of a speedy meeting of the Congress, it must be mentioned that it emanates from financial sources. As for political and diplomatic circles, they are more silent and reserved than ever.

This afternoon's Globe says that two unarmed Russian war vessels from Cronstadt, passed through the south clandestinely, Monday night. It is supposed that their destination is America. Russian agents are engaged in Sweden inspecting shipping with a view to the purchase of cruisers.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22—The Official Messenger publishes a telegram from the Czarewitch, thanking the Moscow association of merchants for the contribution of 400,000 roubles towards the formation of a volunteer fleet.

The Agence Russe and Journal de St. Petersburg warn the public against the pessimist news from Constantinople, where they say endeavors are being made to prevent an understanding between England and Russia.

LONDON, May 22.—The Pall Mall Gazette this afternoon has the following from its Berlin correspondent: Count Schouvaloff, in conversation with other diplomatists, described the proposals he was carrying to England as pacific. He seemed confident they would not be rejected.

Baden Baden is again proposed as the place for Congress. It is thought the proposal will be generally accepted.

Count Schouvaloff arrived in London on his return from St. Petersburg, at six o'clock this evening.

BERLIN, May 22.—The semi-official provincial correspondence anticipates a favorable result from Count Schouvaloff's efforts. It says that the latest declarations of the British ministers as well as the views manifested at St. Petersburg are full of wishes and hopes for the renewed consolidation of European peace.

The Strikes in England.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, May 22.—There have been no further disturbances in the strike districts in Laucashire, and it is not likely that there will be any more rioting, in consequence of the precautions taken by the military and police. Hopes of an early settlement of differences between the masters and operatives have not been abandoned. The spinners and card-room hands oppose the ballot on the questions at issue, but the weavers at Blackburn, and some other towns, will vote to-morrow at Preston. The operatives are also entirely in favor of submitting, as are many thousands of weavers at Blackburn alone. It is believed that the result of their voting will have an important effect on other strikers. In the meantime the strike is extending. Notices of ten per cent. reduction expired at Todmorden and Ramsbottom last night. The operatives have resolved to resist the reduction.

Suits Dismissed.

By telegraph to the NEWS.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—When Richmond fell Governor Smith drew twenty-one thousand dollars from the bank and paid the State officers, whom the United States has sued. Solicitor Rayner directs that these suits be dismissed. Virginia, the opinion says, was not herself in rebellion, and the United States has no more right to this money under the rule of conquest than to her State-house, the State library of Virginia, or the Statue of Washington.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Charles Merrill & Sons, manufacturers and dealers in hardware, have suspended. Liabilities, $150,000; assets, nominally large, consist of real estate, stock, machinery and book accounts.

THE STATE MEDICAL SOCIETY.

The Recent Session in Goldsboro—Its History of Twenty-five years--Objects and Efficiency--Criticisms.

Correspondence of the News.

The medical profession of the State appreciate their obligations to you for publishing your very fine report of the recent proceedings at Goldsboro, of the State Medical Society. The favor you have done the profession is the more valued because the NEWS is the only paper in the State that had the enterprise to send a reporter to Goldsboro, to report the proceedings. Outside of the churches, this Society is almost the only voluntary association in the State or in the South that possessed sufficient vitality and power to live through, and stand the shock and convulsions of the late war. No other State Medical Association in the South survived that terrible period of destruction and devastation. For twenty-five years has this humane and scientific association been in healthful existence—triumphing over the indifference of many of its members, and over every form and variety of medical and political demagogism without its ranks.

A few bold, fearless, devoted and unselfish men have nourished and prospered it from its origin until now, some of whom sleep in honored graves.

It has done a vast deal of good in advancing medical science, in improving the tone of the medical profession, in enabling physicians the better to cure disease, and in lessening the ills of our nature and reducing the bills of mortality. These and such as these are the motives and objects of the humane and accomplished and high-toned men of devotion and of renown who have toiled and moiled in North Carolina for the last two decades and a half, for suffering humanity, and medical improvement, using the State Medical Society as an honored and noble instrumentality in this great and needed work. Upon the shoulders of comparatively few let it be repeated, have these self-sacrificing and unthankful labors devolved. The history of the society in this respect is but a repetition of the old tale—that a few hard-working and heroic men have to do the work, stand the abuse, and give efficiency and success to every well-managed and successful and useful enterprise and institution. It is superfluous to say that the Society has been well-managed. That is the sentiment of the public mind of the whole State, both professional and non-professional, for the eyes of the entire State have been upon the Society ever since its existence. There is no voluntary society in the State that so fully possesses the public confidence and approval as does the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina. Its organic arrangements, internal workings, and practical operations to the ends intended, surpass in wisdom, fairness, and practical vigor, those of the other Southern States, and herein is a solution and explanation of the fact that while they have gone up and down within the life of our own society, ours has stood the wear and tear of time and revolution, growing steadily in numbers and strength; and in usefulness and powers of endurance excelled by none.

These statements are made more particularly now, because of some unjust strictures upon the management of the Society, in the last April number of the North Carolina Medical Journal. There has been an almost universal surprise and regret in the medical profession of the State at these complaints of the Editors of that Journal, because of the equally general opinion that the complaints are groundless, and that the Editors are in error and injudicious in complaining of the management of the Society, especially its management at the annual meeting last year in Salem.

The allusions made to the administration of the affairs of the Society at Salem by the President who then presided, Dr. George A. Foote, of Warrenton, are certainly in bad taste, and unsupported by the facts of the record of this able and accomplished ex-President of the Society. The Society never had a better President, nor a more impartial and faithful officer. As President of the Society, member of the Board of Medical Examiners of the State, and member of our State Board of Health, he has discharged all his duties ably and well, and no member has been more regular and more self-sacrificing in his attendance upon the meetings of these Boards and of this Society.

More, and much more, can be said of this whole-souled gentleman and able practitioner, but less cannot be said after the unmistakable references of said editorial to him, and other devoted and unselfish members of the Society.

It is agreeable to know that the May number of our State Medical Journal will contain such an explanation of this uncalled-for editorial as will tend to remove the unpleasantness it has occasioned among the members of the Society.

ONE OF THE OLD GUARD.

May 21st, 1878.

THE CAPE FEAR DISTRICT.

Hon. Alfred M. Waddell.

In the News of the 17th inst., appeared a communication from "Cape Fear," purporting to be written in Wilmington. I can readily believe its paternity, for all of the Waddell bantlings, that have strutted through newspaper columns, were born in Wilmington:

"Only there and no where else."

Cape Fear says in his article, in effect, in third paragraph, that Mr. Waddell's friends accused Maj. Stedman's friends of using unfair means. Then, Cape Fear, why not have acted candidly and stated facts, not your insinuations. But, says Cape Fear, Maj. Stedman was "granted permission" to speak in a Convention, where he had a large majority of delegates for him, though not the bulk of the representative vote of New Hanover. And, (hear, Democrats!) continues Cape Fear, when Maj. Stedman withdrew out of Mr. Waddell's way, then Mr. Waddell's friends thought it best "to drop personalities and to harmonize the party," this course being, it would seem, secondary with Col. W's. patriotic friends.

Again, says Cape Fear, the solid Stedman delegation in Bladen was "fixed up" and "aroused to a deep feeling of indignation in that county." The "deep feeling" amounted to this—"only this and nothing more"—three or four violent Waddell men, whose vanity was touched in not being selected delegates, I suppose, and who were violent and noisy as small men generally are, got up a petition to the Executive Committee, asking a new Convention, i. e., a Waddell fixing up. After "spreading" themselves, they got sixty-two names out of about fourteen hundred "deeply indignant voters" to their petition, and some of those names were obtained by misrepresentation; for several of the most prominent gentlemen, who signed the petition, after learning it was a move in Waddell's favor, peremptorily withdrew their names. The Executive Committee unanimously refused to call another Convention, and over thirteen hundred votes sanctioned their decision. These are facts, not "flings."

Cape Fear says of Col. Waddell—think of it, ye who are Democrats—that he, Col. Waddell, "is a good Democrat, a Conservative, a sound party man." If so, the Colonel has changed very considerably since 1866, when, on Red Cross Street, in the city of Wilmington, he, Col. Waddell, addressed a crowd of Radical negroes, with, as I reliably hear, only two white men present, those who escorted the Colonel there, and they were—let us pause—Gen. J. C. Abbott, a carpet-bagger, who commanded negro troops against the South, and Pilgrim Ashley from Buzzard's Bay.

I do advise Cape Fear and Mr. Waddell's other friends, to "let matters rest," for the people have a right to discuss Col. Waddell's record, and a discussion would not return the Col. to Washington City.

The writer of this, a friend to Maj Stedman, personally and politically, intended, after Major Stedman's withdrawal, (though I opposed his doing so, knowing he could defeat Col. Waddell), to act in good faith toward Col. Waddell and not oppose him. Such was Maj. Stedman's decision and that of all his most prominent friends. They may yet remain neutral, but they reserve the right to do as they may see fit. Colonel Waddell, with his "Democratic record," is not strong enough to make enemies; his friends will act wisely in not defying all (and they are many) who do not believe Col. Waddell the proper man to represent them in Congress.

Not CAPE FEAR No. 2.

WADDELL AND STEDMAN.

Cape Fear, and Cape Fear Number Two.

Correspondence of the News.

WILMINGTON, May 22.

Cape Fear, in your paper of 17th inst., attempts to reply to my letter in yours of 9th inst., but as he, in the main, acknowledges all my premises, I will simply correct a few errors which he has made innocently, I presume, for want of proper information. First, I will state that my letter was written before Major Stedman had retired from the canvass, so that Cape Fear, No. 1, is responsible if any want of harmony should result from his letter, which was written since. As Major Stedman has retired in good faith, and at a time when all his friends were assured of his success, I do not like to drag his name again into print, but as your last correspondent has chosen to say that his speech to our County Convention "was a want of courtesy and a Parthian arrow," it is only necessary to state that the Convention, after the delivery of this speech, and after the "Parthian arrow" had been shot, unanimously passed a resolution thanking him for the magnanimity of his course, and every good Democrat in the county, so far as I know, has felt similarly, of course not including several loud Democrats who have hitherto either had employment under Republicans or voted with them, and who now try to distinguish themselves by pushing so far forward in our party as to try and establish Democratic precedents. The Review, Democrat, and other newspapers, both in and out of our district, which have expressed themselves in very laudatory terms of Major Stedman, after reading his speech, manifested very dearly their estimation of his conduct. It may safely be said of Charles M. Stedman, that no man in North Carolina has to a fuller extent the confidence and regard of the people amongst whom he lives, and strong as he was before in their affections, his frank, manly, and generous course has endeared him to them by still stronger ties, if possible.

THE FEELING IN BLADEN.

As regards the feeling of indignation in Bladen when a solid Stedman delegation was selected by the Convention, I would say that this indignation only existed in the breasts of a few Waddell men, who of course made a fuss and wanted a new convention and to please them the county committee was called together but unanimously declined to have a new convention, less than seventy out of fourteen hundred Democratic voters having signed a petition for it, although parties instructed from Wilmington had ridden all over the county to get it up.

WADDELL'S VOTE.

Cape Fear No. 1 tries to explain my statement that Waddell fell 500 votes behind the Democratic ticket in last election, by trying to make it appear that it was in this county where his opponent Canaday had a good many friends, in the Democratic party that Waddell's loss of votes was accounted for and this he says is the "nigger in the wood pile," but in answer to that I would say that only about 70 of the 500 loss took place in this county, and he was behind in every county in the District with but one exception and in one county at least more behind than in New Hanover; but make Waddell's standing in the district plainer, I would say that in 1874, when Wilmington was all united for him, his majority in the District was only 1387 over Neil McKay, while in same election Pool's majority in same District over Purnell was 2361. How "Waddell's vote in this District has steadily increased," as Cape Fear No 1. says, is under these circumstances and with these facts a mystery to me. CAPE FEAR No. 2.

Pennsylvania State Democratic Convention.

By Telegraph to the News.

PITTSBURG, May 22.—The entire list of delegates to the Democratic State Convention, which meets here to-morrow, with many prominent men of the party, have arrived, and the aspiring candidates have opened headquarters in the principal hotels. Ex-Senator Buckalew will be the permanent Chairman. The platforms are not yet in shape, but will probably declare against freight discrimination; in favor of the free pipe bill; commend Congressional investigation in the South, and contain a strong plank for the protection of home industry.

War Rumors Contradicted.

By Telegraph to the News.

OTTAWA, ONT., May 22.—Although the report that the Dominion Government had been notified from London that war between Russia and England is inevitable, was printed in Canadian papers, it is now understood that there is no foundation for the report.

BEAUFORT COUNTY.

Political Animation---Homestead Reversal and Bankrupt Repeal---Crops---Rail Road Enterprise.

WASHINGTON, N. C., May 21.

As the "dog days" draw nearer, the political cauldron begins to bubble. Congressional issues are for the present ignored, and popular interest is absorbed in the coming election of county officers. Quite a number of primary meetings have been held in the county precincts, but nominations are not yet made, and the many aspirants for popular favor, stand in readiness to enter the lists, like trained thoroughbreds panting for the tap of the drum.

It is to be hoped that our County Convention, which is to convene on the 25th, will prove a sedative, and quiet the restless spirits now roaming about, seeking what office "they may devour." Many of our party are desirous of a change in our county officers, and doubtless a partial change would be beneficial. However, "this consummation so devoutly to be wished for," can not be achieved by yielding to personal preferences, and disregarding party allegiance.

The strength and success of the Democratic party depends on its unity, and dissensions in primary elections, may give rise to serious embarrassments in the more important contests of November next. I think that I may safely write, that Beaufort county will seat no man in the legislature who is opposed to the re-election of Zebulon B. Vance to the Senate of the United States.

HOMESTEAD DECISION—BANKRUPT REPEAL.

The recent decision on the Homestead Law, is working trouble here, and when the "Bankrupt Act" is annulled, there will be "weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth." How very unfortunate that adjudication and legislation should simultaneously stun the whole country, already suffocating from the general stagnation of every industrial pursuit. The abrogation of these measures of relief brings back the burdens under which our people staggered, as they emerged from the smoke and struggle of war, revivifies dead issues and must cause much distress. Some few speculators (who never smelt gunpowder), have accumulated old claims, and hoarded them. They will reap a rich repast from the blood and marrow of their fellow-citizens.

THE CROPS.

The crops of corn and cotton are unusually promising for the season, but the wheat crop, which is much larger than ever before seeded in this section, has failed very rapidly during the last three weeks.

THE FISHING.

The fishing season, which has proved a profitable one, like all other good things, has come to an end, and the seines and nets are being stored. Last week the Fish Commissioners placed in the waters of Tar river, at the Falls of Rocky Mount, nearly 200,000 young shad. This benificent enterprise is highly appreciated by our Eastern people. When science thus makes her trophies visible, the people begin to see and feel that "book larnin' " is not such a humbug after all.

RAILROAD ENTERPRISE.

The survey of the projected railroad, connecting the Washington and Jamesville road with Tarboro, is now being pushed forward, and we may now reasonably hope for quick communication with "the rest of mankind."

HALIFAX COUNTY.

New Life in the Town of Littleton.

Correspondence of the News.

LITTLETON, May 22.

On visiting a friend a short time since, I found the long-talked of, and much needed improvement in the flourishing town of Littleton, on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, will soon become an established fact; that energetic citizen, Col. W. A. Johnston, is about to build a hotel, and already the burly form of the excavator can be seen removing the sod for its foundation, and it is predicted ere the close of the present year, that Littleton will possess as commodious and comfortable a hotel as any town in the State.

LOCAL AND PUBLIC BENEFIT.

The great benefit of the undertaking to this business town and its vicinity is incalculable. Representatives from the various northern houses will here find the comforts of a home, with the advantage of direct communication to all important towns in the State, and easy access to the northern railroads. The Colonel informs me he intends to have, in connection with the hotel, a first-class livery stable and full line of hacks running to all important business points off the railroad in the country, on which roads, there are some 25 or 30 different country stores, most conveniently reached in this way, making this an important point for commercial travellers, and a great convenience to the fraternity commonly knowu as "drummers."

PANACEA SPRINGS.

Those wishing for rest and quietness from the busy haunts of the city, will find this a charming spot to spend a few days, while the suffering invalid can be greatly benefited by the invigorating waters of the far-famed "Panacea Springs," situated a short distance from town, along a pleasant drive; here also

"The hunter can enjoy old Reynard's chase;
The Angler snare the finny race,
While sportsmen roam o'er wood and field,
Will find for gun abundant yield."

PLEASANT AND HEALTHY LOCALITY.

The town of Littleton has long been remarkable for its healthy locality and excellent water. Its churches, schools, stores, express, telegraph and post-offices, good and agreeable society, all tend to its advantage, and it is astonishing that of the number of quick-sighted business men in Littleton; some one of them has not long since taken this enterprise in hand.

A WELL WISH.

Success, say I, to the Colonel, in his undertaking, and I feel assured when it becomes more generally known, he will meet with that reward which every public benefactor so richly deserves; such certainly is the wish of

A TRAVELLER.

Democratic Unity.

Durham Tobacco Plant.

The Democratic party has proved the salvation of the South and we shall always praise the bridge that carries us over safely. It is a matter of impossibilty that every man should be pleased in the selections of candidates. We all have a preference but some one must be disapointed. But this is not a justifiable cause for a disruption of the party. It is to be hoped that Democrats in every county in the State will stand firm and maintain our party organization.

GRANVILLE COUNTY.

A Persistent Tramp--Railroad to Henderson---County Politics.

Correspondence of the News.

OXFORD, May 22.

For several days past there has been a man here personating a tramp. He behaved himself in such a manner as to get incarcerated in the guard-house. On being set at liberty he continued to make himself disagreeable, meanwhile feigning intoxication. He was shrewdly suspected of being a detective and, from the sequel, it is likely that this suspicion was correct, as three armed men passed through here this morning, en route, it is supposed, to make some arrests for illicit distillation of the "ardent."

THE RAILROAD TO HENDERSON.

Maj. Atkinson has not yet reported the result of his calculations of approximate cost of a railroad from this point to Henderson. His report is eagerly looked for. It is thought that the cost of erecting the road will be much less than was originally anticipated and our people are sanguine of getting the road at no distant day.

POLITICAL.

The political cauldron is beginning to boil here, and we look forward to an animated canvass. The triumph of the Democracy at Henderson and Oxford in the recent municipal elections is a good augury for the success of the party in this county, so long the stronghold of Radicalism in its most unpleasant form, where bribery and corruption have held almost unbridled sway, to the disgust and mortification of our best citizens.

LENOIR COUNTY.

Court in Session---County Meeting to Appoint Delegates--Candidates for Solicitor.

Correspondence of the News.

KINSTON, May 22,

Superior Court in session, his Honor Judge Kerr presiding. One burglary case on docket, balance minor offences. Pretty full docket, but thought it will be disposed of this week.

COUNTY MEETING.

Yesterday the Democrats assembled in county meeting to appoint delegates to the State, Judicial and Congressional Conventions. Delegates were designated from each township by committee, and their report adopted.

CANDIDATES FOR SOLICITOR.

Capt. Swift Galloway, of Greene; H. F. Murray, of Wilson, John D. Kerr, of Wayne, candidates for Solicitor, were each called upon and responded in appropriate, able and interesting speeches. I was glad to see the letter of "Fair Play" in the News of the 21st, calling attention to the candidature of Mr. Kerr. I was sure that no intentional injustice kept the name of Mr. Kerr out of the list of aspirants presented in the News of the 18th.

THE PEOPLE.

Your correspondent is very much pleased with the good people of Lenior, and especially with their kindly feeling for the News, which is read by a large number of the good citizens of the county.

Political History.

Washington Post.

A letter-press copy of an appeal from Senator Kellogg to Gov. McCormick, secretary of the Republican National committee, for help in the canvass of 1876, has been found in New Orleans. After informing him that a few thousand dollars would secure a few thousand votes, "more or less," he closes with the following paragraph:—

"I wish you would write me confidentially if you agree with me that it is of very great importance that the electoral vote of Louisiana be secured—to say nothing of the two Senators. We had assurance that Grierson's cavalry (colored) would be sent into this State. If we could get two or three companies of this cavalry and distribute them over the disturbed parishes in north Louisiana, this, in addition to the other help I have requested, would remove the question of our carrying the State beyond the field of peradventure."

All they wanted was one or two companies of cavalry, then they would be all right. Of this they had assurances (from Grant, probably), but the soldiers were not forthcoming. We suppose the above must be correct, as we find it in the New York Tribune.

Proper use of Words.

Oxford Orphan Friend.

Either from ignorance or carelessness many words are used in ordinary conversation in an improper sense. They have gradually found their way into newspapers and even books and have been so long misapplied, that in many instances their real meaning is almost forgotten. The young student can not too carefully avoid using these misapplied words, if he desires his language to express his thoughts, instead of concealing them. All admit that the tongue is a difficult member to manage, and even those who do not defile themselves with slang, gossip or profanity, must set a watch over their lips. If all were careful to use accurate forms of speech it would be a powerful check to the unruly little member. Unkindness and slander are never expressed in elegant diction. Carelessness in speech is as much to be censured as carelessness in dress or house-keeping; and if a boy is to be trained to accuracy in business, he should first be trained to accuracy in his language, and not make nouns take the place of verbs, adjectives of adverbs, &c. In these days of societies, why not form a society for speaking pure English, so that each member can watch him or herself and be watched in turn?

The Great Fraud.

Mobile Register.

It is not alone the Democracy who doubt the fairness of the election of Mr. Hayes, and the investigation should have been ordered by Republicans as well as Democrats. Is was Dennis and McLin, the Republicans who concocted the frauds in Florida, who have confessed to the crime, and it is no less than the Senator from New York who has expressed doubts as to the honesty of the count.

EDGECOMBE GRANGERS.

Great Grange Mass-Meeting at Sparta.

Special Dispatch to the News.

SPARTA, via Tarboro and Wilson, May 22.

There was a large gathering of grangers here to-day. Col. L. L. Polk, Commissioner of Agriculture, made a great speech. The people of Edgecombe are alive to the importance of the grange movement, the Agricultural Department and agricultural progress generally.

A MEMORABLE PLACE.

Sparta is a memorable place in the past commercial history of the State. There was a time, before railroads, when her trade extended to Wake county. The father of Colonel A. B. Andrews, Superintendent North Carolina Railroad, was a great merchant here forty years ago. When Wm. H. Willard was a pioneer commission merchant in Washington, and opened the first strictly jobbing house in the State, Sparta was the first naval-store depot in North Carolina. But this is all gone now. It has become, instead, one of the first agricultural villages of the country.

LOCATION.

Situated on the Tar river, ten miles south of Tarboro, it has the advantages of water transportation nearly the entire year; and lying in the valley of the Tar, on the borders of the great Coneto country, one of the finest agricultural sections of the world, Sparta is the centre of a community of the best farmers of North Carolina. Captain James R. Thigpen, the great agriculturist, is a native of this section, married in this village, and has two fine plantations, one above and another below Sparta.

A PROGRESSIVE COUNTRY.

The first marl ever used broadcast, in the State, was applied by John Garrett, on Town creek, in this county. Colonel Polk could not have found a better place in the State at which to mingle with experienced, intelligent and appreciative farmers. As one journeys from Tarboro to Greenville, on the river road, he is perpetually in the midst of cultivated fields, and thrifty refined homes. This is a great country; far advanced in enlightened agriculture.

WILSON NOMINATIONS.

Democratic County Convention --Vance, Smith and Howard.

Special dispatch to the News.

WILSON, May 22.

The Democratic County Convention met to-day. Dr. R. W. King was nominated to be the Senator to which Wilson is this year entitled, from the district composed of Wilson, Nash and Franklin. Dr. J. M. Taylor, a brother of the famous Senator of other days, Alsey J. Taylor, of Nash, was nominated for the House of Representatives.

Resolutions adopted, declaring Vance to be the choice of the county for United States Senator, Smith for Chief Justice, and Howard for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, and requesting the News to publish proceedings of convention. Wilson is a banner Democratic county; as goes Wilson, so always goes the State.

National Democratic Committee.

By Telegraph to the News.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Committee met at the Arlington to-day, Senator Barnum in the chair, and Hon. F. D. Prince, of Boston, Secretary. The Committee is full. After organizing it adjourned to nine to-morrow. The members in conversation are unanimous in giving a hopeful account of the prospects for the Fall campaign. Especially those from the North and East thought they could hold their own and possibly make some slight gains. They regard the Potter resolution with favor. If any one is hurt it will be the Republicans.

Russians Negotiating for Heavy Ordnance.

By telegraph to the News.

BOSTON, May 22.—The Russian government, through its agent, Captain Grippenburg, opened negotiations with the South Boston Iron Company, for the manufacture of heavy ordnance, and a special price list, with full particulars as to capacity of works as at present over or under the highest pressure, has been submitted at the request of the Russian agent.

More Favorable Prospects.

By telegraph to the News.

NEW YORK, May 22.—A London dispatch says: The Duke of Athol yesterday had two interviews with the Queen at Balmoral Castle, and afterwards addressed a public meeting declaring the prospects for peace more favorable.

Revenue Seizures.

By telegraph to the News.

CINCINNATI, May 22.—Chris. Kayder's distillery, running 350 bushels of grain per day, situated on Gest street, and the wholesale liquor house of John Izor, at Sedamsville, a suburb of this city, have been seized.

A Mandamus Refused.

By Telegraph to the News.

NEW ORLEANS, May 22.—Judge Righter, of the Sixth District Court, refused a mandamus to compel the School Boards to admit colored children to schools designated for whites.

The Shah of Persia.

By Cable to the News.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 22.—It is officially announced that the Emperor will to-morrow receive the Shah of Persia.

Failures.

By Cable to the News.

LONDON, May 22.—Leather & Co., proprietors of the chemical works at St. Helen's, have failed. Liabilities, £70,000.

The Investigation.

Washington Post.

If the investigation proves nothing, Mr. Hayes will be installed in public confidence, as well as remain in the White House. If the fraud is proven, he ought to be put out of both.

Made His Pile.

Washington Paper.

Senator Edmunds is one of the men who entered Congress poor and will leave it rich.

THE county conventions of Hyde, Bertie and Martin have endorsed Hon. P. H. Winston, of Bertie, for Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. A good man, and if nominated he will make an excellent Judge.

SENATOR LAMAR made a powerful speech on the Texas Pacific Railroad yesterday. It will be seen that he takes precisely the ground of the News on the duty of the government in respect to these great works of internal improvement and needed national highways. Such an effort on the part of a gentleman of recognized ability and great influence throughout the county, cannot fail of the desired effect in behalf of this scheme of Southern Pacific Railway connection, in which the South, and the whole continent are vitally interested.

THROUGH its declaration for Judge Howard yesterday, the county of Wilson bestowed upon that gentleman the highest compliment he will receive in this campaign; the highest, because those people spoke understandingly and without prepossession or partiality. Locating at Wilson on obtaining his license, it was there that Judge Howard grew to the stature of a distinguished man. The people of Wilson, therefore know him in every phase of development from matured youth to ripe manhood. There he became a Superior Court Judge in 1859, and he resided there until the close of the war. Since he has lived in Tarboro, his native home, and hence the people of Wilson are enabled to estimate Judge Howard at his true worth, uninfluenced by the personal partiality that his presence among them would more or less create.

THE special correspondent of the News at Wilson, telegraphs the results of the county convention there yesterday. Dr. R. W. King, the Senator chosen, is a leading practitioner, a farmer also, a gentleman of culture and ability, and identified by his connections largely with the agricultural interests of Wilson, and of Pitt, his native county. Dr. J. M. Taylor, for the House, is a modest, unassuming gentleman, of the non-office-seeking kind, but a man of fine natural endowments, and of the first order of intellectual attainments. The State always needs the services of such men as Dr. Taylor; and in their legislative nominations the Democrats of Wilson have done well, as that intelligent and discriminating people always do. The convention declared for Vance as the choice of the county for the United States Senate, for Judge Smith for Chief Justice and Judge Howard for Associate.

Ninth Judicial District Nominations.

A telegraphic dispatch brings the intelligence that J. C. L. Gudger, Esq., of Waynesville, has received the nomination for Judge, and G. S. Furguson, for Solicitor of the Ninth Judicial District. This is the extreme Western District, and before the reduction in districts the twelfth, including a portion of the eleventh.

Mr. Gudger is a native of Buncombe county. He moved to his present home, the county seat of Haywood, at the close of the war, when he began the practice of the law, in which profession he has achieved great success. He is a true and unswerving Democrat, and though at all times and under all circumstances doing his full measure of duty to his party and his country when his services were needed, yet he has repeatedly and persistently refused to engage in politics, that would in any wise hinder or retard his advance toward the goal of his ambition—that of being master of his profession.

During the dark days of the war he was at his post doing duty, as a soldier, in defence of his country, and, as he believed, constitutional liberty. With a liberal education, familiarity with the theory and the practice of the law, an unsullied private and public reputation, a firm and determined purpose to do what to him seemeth right and proper, he can but reflect credit upon himself, and adorn the high position which his fellow-citizens will most assuredly call him to occupy.

Mr. Furguson, the nominee for Solicitor, was the Senator from Haywood last year; and is a gentleman of force and character. He has many friends, and will make a popular candidate in his district. With such men as these as the Democratic nominees, the party is certain of success and the District and State assured of just and upright Judicial officers.

The Democratic Send-Off.

The Democracy of North Carolina has begun well in this campaign. The county and district nominations so far made are admirable. Taking Buncombe, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, Orange, Rowan and Wilson, in their legislative nominations, and the ticket of the ninth district, and it may be questioned if the Democratic party ever before came upon the threshold of a campaign displaying a finer sense of discrimination. So far, the gentlemen put forward by the Democratic Conventions appear to have been selected with studied reference to their peculiar fitness for the positions they are to occupy.

These examples of the few counties that have already acted should not, and will not, be lost on the counties to follow. The people have come to appreciate with an intelligence that looks to business and the practical, that the men for public positions are the best men in their communities, and nominations are not so much now the mere expression of personal partiality outweighing every other consideration. And this is a very healthy development, significant of better things in a public way.

Harmony of purpose and united action are also distinctive political features of the county conventions thus far heard from. The controversies that have come out through the press, respecting certain positions and candidatures involved in this campaign, created a widespread apprehension of trouble this year in the Democratic camp. The News is gratified to be able to state as an intimate belief that such fears will not be realized anywhere in the State. And in respect to the State Convention, there is assurance amounting to a guarantee, that no gentleman, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the State ticket, will allow his name, or his aspirations to stand in the way of the perfect peace and harmony of the Democratic party in the Convention, and out of it, after the campaign shall have been regularly begun. The permanent success and well-being of the Democratic party are high above any man, or any ambition, and its leaders are too intelligent and patriotic to stand in the way of these. The beginning that has been made is but the indication of what will follow, and in the Conventions and throughout the campaign the Democracy of North Carolina will be found to be harmonious and united.

Seventy-Eighth North Carolina Reports--How the Judges Below Fared.

Attorney General Kenan again vindicates his reputation as a good reporter, and adds to it. No one of the preceding volumes in the long series of North Carolina Reports has had more good, honest labor bestowed upon it.

Colonel Kenan began his series of Reports with several improvements on the style of reporting that had before obtained here. Among other things he added the synopsis or head line to the syllabus of each case. In this volume he has gone further and carefully classified the opinions, putting those of the same subject matter together.

The cases on practice occupy the first seventy-eight pages of the volume. Then come corporation cases, cases involving the question of jurisdiction, etc. The last one hundred and fifty-four pages are taken up with the State or criminal cases—an unusually large per centage. The volume contains six hundred and sixty-three pages, being slightly larger than the last.

A list of attorneys to whom the Supreme Court has granted license to practice law, during the last three terms, is also given. It is a subject of regret that each volume of our Reports has not always contained a list of the Attorneys to whom license was granted by the court during the time covered by the respective volumes.

The paper is excellent and the printing and press work good, leaving nothing to be desired. The index seems carefully made and is an improvement on those of many of our Reports. If there is a defect at all, it is in the rather succinct manner of stating a few of the cases, caused probably, by a desire to avoid the vice of "padding" so common in book-making. Some nine or ten cases seem omitted from the volume, as only one hundred and thirty-five opinions are given of one hundred and forty-four filed by the Court. The omitted opinions were doubtless in cases of small importance, or where they were repetitions of previous ones of the same import. Take it all in all, neither reporter, printer nor binder need fear to compare the seventy-eighth volume of North Carolina Reports with the Reports issued by any State of the Union.

There are many important and interesting opinions in the volume, but as the News not only published digests of each opinion as delivered, but on the adjournment of the Court gave a review of the more important ones, they will not be enlarged upon here. Suffice it to say this volume contains the case of State vs. Driver, Miller vs. Miller, State vs. Keesler, and State vs. Shaft, with sundry and divers poetical quotations. It is altogether a somewhat notable volume.

It only remains to see what treatment the decisions of our respective Judges below received in this court of last resort. Of the one hundred and thirty-five cases reported, one hundred and twenty-one were appeals from the superior courts; eight from the criminal courts of New Hanover and Wake, and one appeal from the inferior court of Edgecombe. The remaining five cases were petitions to rehear, applications for certiorari, etc., in the supreme court.

In the one hundred and thirty cases of appeals, sixty-four were affirmed and sixty-six reversed, as follows:—Judge Eure was affirmed in five cases and reversed in three; Judge Moore, affirmed in two, reversed in six; Judge Seymour, affirmed in twelve, reversed in seven; Judge McKoy, affirmed in five, reversed in three; Judge Buxton, affirmed in twelve, reversed in ten; Judge Cox, affirmed in three, reversed in eight; Judge Kerr, affirmed in five, reversed in five, being equally balanced luck. Judge Cloud lost his balance, being affirmed in six cases and reversed in nine; Judge Schenck, affirmed in eight and reversed in six; Judge Furches, affirmed in one, and reversed in one; Judge Cannon was affirmed in one and reversed in three, rather two reversible a cannon to safely stand behind. Judge Henry was the only Judge from whom no appeals were decided.

From the county criminal judges there were eight appeals; Judge Strong affirmed in four, and reversed in two: Judge Meares, two appeals, in both of which he was reversed; and one appeal from the inferior court of Edgecombe, in which case that court was reversed.

Are manufacturing improved Circular-Saw Mills; Horse Powers and Treshers with and without Separators; Cotton Gins; Smutt Machines, Corn Shellers, Straw Cutters, Cane Mills, Saw and Grist Mill-Irons of every description.

They make Castings from a half pound to two tons weight.

They are also agents for the sale of Burr and Kusopus Mill-Stones and for Bolting Cloths, Circular-Saws, &c., &c. They are now fitting up an which is superseding Over-Shot and all other wheels, where economy, durability and costs are called in question.

IMPROVED TURBINE WATER WHEEL

These Wheels have been fairly tested, under all heads of water from 4 to 20 feet, and in same Water-house with some of the boasted wheels of the North, and they have invariably given as good or better results, with same quantity of water.

Mill-Owners and others, who use water as a propelling power, would consult their own interest by testing the merits of this Wheel, before sending North for an inferior and less durable one, at greater costs.

This Company is an association of practical Mechanics and Mill-Wrights, some of whom have been engaged in the business for forty years, and know whereof they speak.

They are qualified from long training and experience in all kinds of mill gearing and machinery to guarantee satisfaction in plan, style of work and cost. Their daily increasing orders for Wheels from all sections, were tried, is reliable testimony that theirs is the rising wheel.

DAILY NEWS.

THURSDAY, ... MAY 25, 1878.

The Song of the Camps.

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

As its author has just reached Berlin to represent the United States near Bismarck's person, we publish "The Soldiers' Song" by request. It was written while Mr. Taylor was representing the New York Tribune as war correspondent in front of Sebastopol, 1855.—Norfolk Landmark.)

"Give us a song!" the soldiers cried,
The outer trenches guarding,
When the heated guns of the camps allied,
Grew weary of bombarding.

"Give us a song!" the guard men say,
"We storm the forts to-morrow;
Sing while we may, another day
Will bring enough of sorrow."

They lay along the batteries' side
Below the slumbering cannon,
Brave hearts from Severn and from Clyde,
And from the banks of Shannon.

They sang of love and not of fame,
Forgot was Britain's glory;
Each heart recalled a different name,
But all sang "Annie Laurie."

Voice after voice caught up the song,
Until its tender passion
Swelled like an anthem rich and strong,
Their battle eve's confession.

Dear girl! Her name he dared not speak,
But as the song grew louder,
Something upon the soldier's cheek,
Washed off the stains of powder.

And once again a fire of hell
Rained on the Russian quarters,
Midst scream of shot and burst of shell,
And bellowing of the mortars.

And Irish Nora's eyes are dim,
For a singer dumb and gory,
And English Mary mourned for him
Who sang of "Annie Laurie."

Beyond the darkening ocean burned
The bloody sunset's embers;
While the Crimean valleys learned
How English love remembers.

Ah! soldiers, to your honored rest,
Your truth and valor bearing,
The bravest are the tenderest,
The loving are the daring.

Out of Tune.

When the tones of a musical instrument become harsh and discordant, we say it is "out of tune." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disordered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anxiety, and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from these as from other causes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheering cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and antibilious medicine, eradicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent attacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughness bowel and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, and many other bodily ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.

Better than Foreign Port.

WAKE COUNTY: SUPERIOR COURT.

Robert A. Taylor, Plaintiff, against
James G. McPheeters, Defendant.

The defendant James G. McPheeters is hereby notified that Robert A. Taylor has commenced an action against him in the Superior Court of Wake county, State of North Carolina, entitled as above. That the purpose of said action is to recover the sum of two hundred and eighty-four dollars and interest due by note of J. G. McPheeters & Co., dated at Baltimore, Md., March 1st, 1873, and payable 60 days after date, and endorsed to plaintiff.

That the complaint in said action was filed in said Superior Court of Wake county, on the 11th day of May, 1878.

Said James G. McPheeters is hereby required to appear at the Court House in Raleigh, in the county of Wake, at the term of the Superior Court of said county to be held on the third Monday in August 1878, and during said term to answer or demur to the said complaint, or the plaintiff will apply for the relief therein demanded.

Said James G. McPheeters is further notified that on the 13th day of May, 1878, a warrant of attachment against his property in North Carolina was issued from said Superior Court of Wake county, on the application of plaintiff. Said warrant returnable to the Superior Court of Wake county, at the Court House in Raleigh, on the third Monday of August, 1878.

Ex-Union soldiers, officers of military and civic organizations and others who propose to take part in the ceremonies of Decoration Day, are requested to meet at the office of Albert Magnin, Esq., on this Thursday evening, May 23rd, at 8 o'clock.

Agricultural Museum.

A couple of curiosities were sent to the Museum yesterday, by Mr. Jas. McGowan, of Wilmington. One is a small clam shell, petrified, and filled with clear water. The other is an Indian pipe, of dark clay, about six inches in length, queerly shaped. These were found in a peat bog.

Mayor's Court.

Jonas Holland, colored, appeared before His Honor, Mayor Manly, at the Criminal levee of yesterday, charged with the theft of some wine from the warehouse at the Central Depot. His guilt was proved, and he was sent to jail, failing to give bond of $100 for his appearance at court.

Through to Fayetteville,

The train on the Raleigh & Augusta Air-Line now leaves here at 5:30 p. m., and on arrival at Sanford stops 20 minutes for supper. At the expiration of that time the train on the Western Road leaves for Fayetteville, reaching the latter place at midnight. The former delay in getting to Fayetteville is thus avoided, much to the comfort of travelers on that route.

The R. L. I. Parade.

The monthly parade of the Raleigh Light Infantry took place yesterday afternoon. Headed by the Oak City Band the corps marched to St. Mary's, where dress parade was held. Lt. John T. Pullen, as adjutant, turned over the command to Capt. Cameron, and the ceremonies of the parade were conducted in admirable style. The appearance of the command was never better, and their maneuvers on the march back were well executed.

A Love Episode.

A young gent of the city called on a young lady a few evenings since, and as is usual in such cases commenced quoting poetry. As a gem in that line he quoted,

> "Love is a curious thing;
> Beauty is a blossom.
> If you want your finge bit
> Just stick it at a 'possum."

The young lady (as he concluded the last line) thrust her dexter finger towards his mouth, when forgetting that he was not the "'possum," he bit the finger at once. If his friends get his name he'll be dubbed "'possum" in future.

Important.

At the approaching election, three ballots will be voted, as follows:

1. The Chief Justice and the two Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, the three Judges of the Superior Courts and the Solicitor, shall be voted for on one ballot.

2. The Senator and Members of the House of Representatives shall be voted for on one ballot.

3. The Clerk of the Superior Court, Treasurer, (in such counties as have a Treasurer) Register of Deeds, Surveyor, Coroner, and Sheriff shall be voted for on one ballot.

Ballots shall be on white paper, and may be printed or written, or partly written and partly printed, and shall be without device.

There will be a ballot-box for each ballot.

Tuesday's Storm.

From various sections of the county come reports of the damage caused by the late storm. In Wake Forest township the rainfall was terrific, and much injury was done the young crops. In the vicinity of the New Fair Grounds, near the city, great quanitities of hail fell, the stones of large size. Trees, both shade and fruit, were blown down by the high winds. A bolt of lightning struck one of the houses at the Hillsboro road gate of the grounds, tearing a hole through the roof. About 10 p. m. lightning also struck the rod of the Capital, with a fearful peal of thunder following, which startled the town. Just as the bolt fell the Local of the News was in a little distance of the place where the lightning rod enters the ground. The glare and crash were so great that one almost entirely blinded, while the other deafened him. The effects produced by the shock were strange, one had no time to be frightened, but felt, it may seem odd to thus define it, as if he was hungry. Not hungry for another experience of the same sort, however.

The Musical Festival.

At 8:30 last evening the cosy little session room of the First Presbyterian Church was filled with as happy an assembly as ever gathered within its walls. The most pleasant feature of the evening was the choice vocal musical selections with which those present were favored. The music was furnished by the choir of the church, while Prof. Baumann, musical instructor at the Peace Institute, presided at the organ.

The opening piece of the programme was "Awake the starry midnight hour;" sung by Mrs. Julius Lewis, Mrs. Baumann, Mrs. Geo. C. Jordan, and Messrs. Primrose, Leo. D. Heartt and Geo. C. Jordan. The rendition was made admirable by the trained and highly cultivated voices of the singers.

The second selection was a vocal trio "The stars of the night shine o'er us," which was effectively sung by Mrs. Baumann, Mrs. Jordan and Mr. L. D. Heartt.

Selection third was a duet, "Neath the Stars," in which Misses Burwell and Scales, of the Peace Institute, appeared to great advantage, their voices being particularly sweet and clear.

The fourth selection was the comic song "Call John," whose rendition, with appropriate gestures, by a quartette consisting of Messrs W. S. Primrose, L. D. Heartt, Professor Baumann and Geo. C. Jordan, was so fine as to elicit much applause.

Miss Katie Scales next sang a solo, in a manner both artistic, finished, and pleasing.

The last selection was a duet by Mrs. Baumann and Mrs. Jordan, and, as might be expected, it was perfectly sung.

These vocal exercises concluded, the parting folding doors revealed a little world beyond, stored with the modern nectar and ambrosia, ice cream and strawberries. Other good things edible were provided in abundance, while the kind waitresses flitted here and there ministering to the wants of all. The tables were quickly occupied, and the work of demolition began. The baby-show was not given, but in place of real live babies, the "Busy Bee Band," exhibited a fine lot, for sale.

Wake Criminal Court.

Court met yesterday at 10 a. m. His Honor Judge Strong presiding. The following cases were disposed of:

State vs. J. P. H. Adams; False pretence. Verdict, not guilty.

State vs. Henry Hall and Isaac Hinton; Affray. Submission. Defendant Hinton fined $15 and costs. Defendant Hall fined $25 and costs.

State vs. Henry Campbell. Assault and battery. Submission. Judgment $10 fine, and costs.

State vs. Jos. DeCarteret, Robert Dobbin and Rod Fowler. Submission. Judgment one penny and costs.

State vs. Rufus Dednam. Affray. Guilty. Judgment $15 fine, and costs.

State vs. James F. Lafoon. Affray. Submission. Judgment one penny and costs.

State vs. J. Hillman Keith. Removed for trial to Franklin county.

State vs. Harriet Green. Larceny. Guilty. Judgment, 1 year in Penitentiary.

State vs. Solomon Freeman. Disturbing a religious congregation. Verdict, not guilty.

Court adjourned until to-day at 10 a. m.

Chapel Hill—Visit of Trustees.

Hon. W. H. Battle, Hon. John Manning and Julian S. Carr, Esq., a quorum of the Committee of Trustees of the University appointed by the Board to inspect the University, have just finished their task. They did their work thoroughly, heard recitations and lectures in Latin, Greek, German, French, English, Mathematics, &c., were fumigated in the chemical laboratory where half a hundred students were working with blowpipe and re-agents, watched with interest the dissections of plants and the microscopic work of the students in Botany, examined the accounts of the Treasurer and the Bursar. They expressed themselves highly gratified with the character of the instruction, and the general studiousness, behaviour and morals of the students. Their visit encouraged the faculty and students and was productive of great good.

This week and the next will be devoted to examinations, and the commencement week will close the labors of the year.

Blanks for Election.

Registers of Deeds in making requisitions upon the Secretary of State for books, &c., for the approaching elections in August and November, should order as many each of registration and poll books and returns from precinct judges to board of county canvassers as there are voting-places in their respective counties; one election book for clerk and one for Register of Deeds; enough copies of election law to supply registrars and inspectors of election, county commissioners, register of deeds and sheriff; certificates of removal from one township to another as many as in their judgment may be required; judges and solicitor abstract, six. They should state the number of polling-places in their counties. This is important, and the press of the State should call attention to it.

Diseases in Hogs.

Correspondence of the News.

APEX, N. C., May 22.

Will some of your readers please give a remedy for quinsy in hogs.

Respectfully, H. C. OLIVE.

By every consideration of profit and propriety, the blood should be kept absolutely pure by using Dr. Bull's Blood Mixture.

GROWLERY.

Boys and Bonds.

A late correspondent of the News says that the Fifth Ward Nominating Convention was composed solely of boys. We saw Julius Lewis, Esq., and Maj. Rufus Tucker present. How will they do for two of the "boys?" We could name others.

We agree that if the bond was required for protection of the public it ought to be given. But when the bonds of Chief of Police and Street Commissioner are suddenly raised from the comparatively small amounts heretofore deemed adequate, to $40,000, every one knows it is a very thin veil to hide bolting the caucus nominees for those places. It is more a bolt than Merrimon's. We are for standing by the choice of the party ALWAYS.

Municipal.

I notice in yesterday's issue of the Observer a flimsy, weak defense of the bolters of the Democratic caucus of city Aldermen, signed D. R. Y.

Because a man is beaten in caucus and his uncle Billy is not nominated, therefore there is a ring, and a great hue and cry is made about combinations and the like; and now comes our little friend D. R. Y. Oh DRY! DRY! now don't! I think if he had signed it "Try" it would have been much more appropriate, for then we might say to him "Try, try again."

One would imagine from reading his letter he was as wise as Waltham's calf that ran nine miles to suck a bull—he is so well posted and his remarks so pointed, but he caps the climax with the fearful threat that "if the new-comers (meaning the Aldermen who have the grit to stand by the caucus nominees) continue their fight against him (Blake) they will find themselves in a dilemma, or in other words if you don't stand back and let me run this machine it will be the worse for you." Now what is behind this threat? It it certainly means something. Does it mean revenge? If so remember the lines of Milton,

> "Revenge at first though sweet,
> Bitter ere long, back on itself recoils."

Each Alderman is answerable to his constituents for his acts while in office, and if by a spirit of revenge, the Radicals are allowed to get control of our city, the men that elected you will surely call you to account for it.

Dry's friend, Alderman Blake, has (with the assistance of Radical votes), required a bond of $40,000 from two city officers, who can by no possibility, handle more than one-tenth the amount per annum. His object is so plain that the most obtuse can easily see through it, and yet Dry, with the cheek of an army mule, talks about rings.

I will state in conclusion, that I am not, and never have been a candidate for any favors at the hands of the Board of Aldermen. I belong to no ring; am no office-seeker, either for myself or any friends; I am simply a tax-payer and thoroughbred

DEMOCRAT.

Falls of Effect.

Durham Tobacco Plant.

The attempt of a certain newspaper correspondent to destroy the effect of Capt. Shotwell's letters by dark insinuation against that gentleman, will fail to have the desired effect. The people are with Shotwell in this county.

Montgomery's Triumph.

Phildelphia Times.

The newspapers are not poking so much fun at Montgomery Blair as they were doing a few weeks ago. There appears to have been an early and a damaging frost.

Howe's U. S. Standard Scales.

Without doubt is the best and most accurate scale in the market. J. C. Brewster is agent for the above scale, and will take pleasure in showing to parties wishing to purchase the advantages and improvement of the scale over all other. Call and see the new style butcher and butter scales with porcelain plate. Portable fish, cotton, depot and warehouse scales. J. C Brewster, Hardware Merchant, Raleigh. N. C. *

The Clough & Warren Organ Medal.

We take pleasure in announcing to the public generally and especially to those of musical tastes, that the medal awarded as first premium to the Clough and Warren Organ Co., of Detroit, Michigan, for the best parlor organ exhibited at the last Annual Fair of the State Agricultural Society has been delivered to the General Agent for this State, Mr. W. K. Graves, of Salem, and he has forwarded it to the company.

This is one of the increasing evidences of the superiority of these organs. Any person desirous of securing a really first-class instrument would do well to correspond with Mr. Graves, as he is offering the Premium organ at a sacrifice. will also sell any other style made by the firm at very low prices. *

NEVADA CITY,
Nevada Co., Cal., May 24th, 1875.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir.—For three years I was afflicted with a scaly eruption on the face, and pimples. I tried every physician, and every remedy that I could hear of, but to no purpose. At last I tried your Golden Medical Discovery, and was happily astonished with the result. In one month's time my face became smooth and well, and every pimple and blotch entirely disappeared. I regard it as the best remedy in the world for diseases of the blood.

Yours truly,
A. DIAMOND.

BEAUTY:

OR THE

Secret of a Fair Face.

AN ITEM OF INTREST TO EVERY LADY WHO DESIRES TO BE MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN SHE NOW IS.

Unfortunately not one woman in a hundred, subjected to the whims of an American climate possesses that basis and starting point of real beauty—a pure and clear complexion.

What nature has thus denied, art must be called upon to furnish.

It can be done; it is done daily. Prof. W. E. Hagan placed beauty within the reach of every unblessed daughter of Eve when he discovered that surprising article known in fashionable circles as the true secret of beauty, and called

MAGNOLIA BALM

The MAGNOLIA BALM is a sure device for creating a pure and blooming complexion.

It conceals all natural blemishes in the most surprising and effective manner.

It removes all roughness eruptions, redness blotches, freckles, and tan with magical power.

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Magnolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawback to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things considered, and may be had at any drug store.
